

Edwina Hill

July 3, 1936 - December 11, 2012

Edwina Hill was born on July 3, 1936 in Goldsboro, North Carolina to the late Percy Sr. and Pearl Faison. She was the youngest daughter of nine siblings. After a short illness she peacefully entered into eternal rest on Tuesday, December 11, 2012. Her compassionate and comedic attitude, along with her feistiness, earned her the nickname “The Mayor” and was also affectionately known by family & friends as “Weezy.” These personality traits are what made her adored by many.

Edwina attended Dillon High School in Greensboro, North Carolina. After moving from New York, where she lived most of her adult life, she moved to Alexandria, Virginia, in 1995. She was employed by GSA as well as Abraham & Strauss in New York. She was also employed by Goodwin House in Alexandria for many years until she made the decision to leave this employment to take care of her daughter, Clarissa.

Edwina was united in holy matrimony to the late Charles Hill on November 30, 1953. Their union was blessed with three children. Her long time companion, the late Willie Lee Sharpe, became a strong father figure to her children, as well as his own four children.

Edwina enjoyed traveling, sports, watching soap operas and spending time with her family. She dedicated her life to God and studied her bible faithfully every day. Edwina was preceded in death by her parents, Percy and Pearl Faison; husband, Charles Hill; Son, Wilbert Sharpe; daughter, Maryanne Wade; sisters, Emma Marie, Eunice Rose and Eliza “Baby Ray” Faison; and
