

Jenetta Ann McKoy

February 21, 1967 - March 28, 2024

Jenetta Ann McKoy (Jeannette) was born on February 21, 1967 in Chapel Hill, North Carolina to the late Jeffries McCoy and Elaine McCoy. Depending on who you ask, she is Jenetta, Jeannette, Netta, Jenny, and more! Coming from a military family, names were mixed and after 40 years, she went from Jeannette McCoy to her given birth name Jenetta McKoy- a wild story she could laugh about all day! Being “Ma” and Gigi were titles she held proudly. She loved making big meals for her family and claiming all their friends as her own kids. Her house was the teen hangout! As Gigi, her house was the grandkid zone, where all the house rules “mom” laid down didn’t exist!!

On March 28th, Jeannette peacefully transitioned to her eternal resting place. Even in sadness, her strength, power, and unshakable faith will always be admired.

Jeannette will be remembered by her beautiful smile, powerful prayers, silent strength, and big heart. Oh- and you can’t drink a Pepsi without thinking of her!

“ On Sunday's Bridget and Jeanette and the baby would come by the house for sunday dinners and family get together. We called sneaking off. So we thought we were sneaking from them off and go back to my bedroom and smoke our cigarettes and plan our summer together of traveling and going to concerts together and we would dance with Brielle and listening to gospel music together. And just have our special girl talk and venting to one another about life and helping each other work through life situations and on how much we loved our children and God..No worries sis I will dance and travel for use and continue to love our family. I love you always and until we meet again your friend for life Butter 🥰🥰
